Cadet girls win Six Nations team bronze

GUERNSEY'S cadet girls duo of Alice Loveridge and Paula Le Ber grabbed a team bronze at the Six Nations tournament in Largs, Scotland.

And it could have been silver.

Le Ber had two match points to beat Northern Ireland, but could not convert them and the Sarnians finished behind the English and the Irish.

Nevertheless, they still finished ahead of Wales, Scotland and Isle of Man and GTTA president Derek Webb was encouraged that Guernsey placed fourth of the six in all but one of the other categories.

'We're competing now and it's fantastic. It was a tremendous weekend for everybody,' he said.

Webb said he was particularly impressed by the play of Scott Romeril in the under-18s.

'He probably had the best weekend he's ever had although he didn't get the results he deserved.'

Guernsey's other pairings were Romeril and Garry Dodd (under-18s), Bethany Pipet and Sophie Dyer (under-18s) and Adam and Olly Langlois (under-15s).

Romeril, Loveridge and Le Ber all reached the quarter-finals of their respective singles event.
